GAME TIME OR ANY TIME WING guide

Wild for Wings

BY SAMANTHA MATTHEWS

NIGHT & DAY MAGAZINE

For many people wings are the unofficial food of football season and make for some awesome game-day grub. With that thought at the forefront we've rounded up top notch wings specials in Monmouth and Ocean counties that are perfect at game time or anytime. Whether it's while you're cheering on your favorite football team or any other time during the week, wings are always a good choice.

MJ'S

MJ's Wings Wednesday serves up 60-cent chicken wings available bone-in or boneless. The wings are sold in increments of six in the bar room only and there is a limit of 12 wings per person. This special is dine-in only. MJ's NFL Game Day Food Menu also features bone-in or boneless wings served with your choice of up to two sauces, bleu cheese dressing and celery/carrot sticks. Wing options: 6 for $5.99, 12 for $10.99 or 18 for $15.99. Sauce choices include smoky chipotle BBQ, traditional buffalo, garlic parmigiano, sweet & spicy honey Thai, "firecracker," sriracha cream, mango habanero and spicy & sticky Korean teriyaki.

QUAKER STEAK & LUBE OF BRICK

Quaker Steak & Lube of Brick features football fuel all pro games all season with 65-cent breaded boneless wings and $1 bone-in wings both for orders of five wings. Happy Hour wing specials are also 65 cent breaded boneless wings and a $5 basket of five bone-in wings. Tuesdays from 5 p.m. to close enjoy all you can eat wings for $15.99.

LEGGETT'S

Monday night football features 50-cent wings from 5 to 9 p.m. as well as wings and pitcher specials on Tuesdays. Football Sunday serves up $15 wings [full order] and Bud or Bud Light special.

PROVING GROUND

Proving Ground's Sunday Funday menu features $10 wings available hot, mild, honey chipotle, BBQ, garlic parm, cajun or Old Bay.

BROADWAY BAR & GRILL

Tuesdays Wings & Yuengs features 75-cent wings and $3 Yuenglings all day long.

BEACON 70

Football Sunday features free wings with every large pitcher or beer tower.

BUON APPETITO CATERING AT THE ARROWHEAD INN

Fall into the season at area vineyards

SAMANTHA MATTHEWS NIGHT & DAY MAGAZINE

As the seasons change from summer to fall the air takes on a certain crispness and the leaves change colors creating that perfect fall foliage. An abundance of autumn activities fill people's calendars like apple and pumpkin picking, hayrides, corn mazes, hikes, haunted attractions and more. The fall is also the perfect time to head to area vineyards and sit back and relax with a delicious glass of wine in hand. Walk the vineyards and take in the fall scenery firsthand with friends and family. Find your favorite blend of wine and favorite backdrop for a stunning fall photo. Looking for a venue for your special day or a fun location to host an event or party? Many of the wineries listed below are available to book for weddings, parties and various events to ensure memories that will last a lifetime. Whether you stick to wineries in Monmouth and Ocean counties or take a drive to a winery somewhere else in New Jersey and make a day trip out of it, you're sure to enjoy a delicious glass of wine and a fun-filled afternoon at the vineyard.

4 JG'S ORCHARDS & VINEYARDS

COLTS NECK | 4jgswinery.com

The Giunco family made its first barrel of wine from a handpicked selection of grapes grown at their Colts Neck farm in 2002. The vineyard is located in a historic farming area at 127 Hillsdale Road, Colts Neck, and is named after the four founding family members of the Giunco family. Four JG's Orchards & Vineyard was founded in 1999 and with the harvest currently in the air, 4JG's invites you to come experience the beauty of the vineyard while relaxing and sipping award-winning wines. Open Saturdays and Sundays from noon to 5 p.m.

FOX HOLLOW VINEYARDS

HOLMDEL | foxhollowvineyards.com

Fox Hollow Vineyards, 939 Holmdel Road, Holmdel, is owned and operated by sixth-generation farmers who make up the Casola family. The Casola family decided to diversify into vineyards and wine making for future generations. The family prides themselves on the cultivation of premium grapes, which are all hand tended and harvested before being skillfully crafted into their fine wines. The Casola family's expertise in farming is what makes them stand out. See for yourself by stopping in Thursdays through Sundays.

CREAM RIDGE WINERY

CREAM RIDGE | creamridgewinery.com

Cream Ridge Winery was founded in 1988 by Tom and Joan Amabile and has a tradition of making small batches of wine in their own special way. Since its inception the Amabile family have enjoyed the passion for wine and the joy of spending time with their customers, whom they prefer to call friends. Tim and Jackie Schlitzer currently manage Cream Ridge Winery and bring the Amabile and Schlitzer families together as they move toward the next 30 years of wine making enjoyment. The winery, 145 County Road 539, Cream Ridge, is open from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Saturday and from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. on Sundays.

LAURITA WINERY

NEW EGYPT | lauritawinery.com

Laurita Winery takes its name from the first names of owners Randy Johnson and Ray Shea's mothers, Laura and Rita, to whom the winery is dedicated. A sustainable alternative, Laurita Winery is linked to the local area through tradition, culture and respect for its natural resources. Laurita Winery's estate grown wines reflect old world traditions and the vision of wine's place at the table as a complement to food. According to the site, to sip their wines is to savor the freshness of the taste of grapes at their source. Hours and events vary by week, but the winery, 85 Archertown Road, New Egypt, is currently open Wednesdays through Sundays.

It's the roaring twenties, and you have been invited to the hottest spot in town: The Rotten Club! It's a big night and everyone is up to no good. Early Demise, the club owner, is on edge because Mr. Big is back to check out the joint and make sure Early is making his backer money. Early's headliner (and sometimes girlfriend, Bette), is scheduled to sing, but Bette is too busy making eyes at the guests to perform. To make matters worse, Early's wife has decided that tonight's the night to end Early's "extracurricular activities" with Bette and the bottle. It will take a master detective and help from YOU to solve the mystery!

GIVE BACK THIS SEASON

BY SAMANTHA MATTHEWS
NIGHT & DAY MAGAZINE

The upcoming holiday season is a joyous time of year to celebrate with friends and family. Make the most out of the "Season of Giving" by finding ways to give back to the community, volunteer and help those less fortunate. Various organizations in our area collect donations and serve food to those who need it most and they can always use an extra helping hand. Give back this season and help make someone else's season a bit brighter.

GIVING BACK

Fulfill, Monmouth and Ocean, 3300 Route 66, Neptune, strives to fight hunger many different ways through providing food, culinary training, kids' feeding programs, mobile pantries, enrollment assistance, affordable health care and tax refund assistance and more. Fulfill believes their volunteers are the heart of the organization and make a difference every day in all of their programs.

Volunteer opportunities include organizing food drives, packing and sorting donations, helping out at mobile pantries and with their feeding program partners and so much more.

For more information, call 732-918-2600.

Soul Kitchen, the JBJ Soul Foundation community restaurant with locations in Red Bank and Toms River, invites all to join their volunteers by giving back to the community and feeding your soul. According to its site, volunteers are essential to the Soul Kitchen mission and are the life blood of what they do. To date, the Soul Kitchen has served 105,893 meals.

For more information on the JBJ Soul Kitchen and how to volunteer, visit jbjsoulkitchen.org.

Lunch Break, 121 Drs. James Parker Blvd., Red Bank, offers help for today and hope for tomorrow.

The organization's mission statement reads, "As a caring community, Lunch Break freely provides food, clothing, life skills and fellowship to those in need in Monmouth County and beyond."

Lunch Break ensures that their doors and hearts are always open and there is never a fee for a service needed, whether it's a meal, clothing or more. In addition to the meals served Monday through Saturday, Lunch Break will also serve Thanksgiving dinner and Christmas brunch.

Volunteer opportunities are also available at Lunch Break. For more information, visit lunchbreak.org.

The Church of Epiphany, 615 Thiele Road, Brick, serves a free Thanksgiving meal complete with all of the trimmings with a local delivery to the elderly, disabled or home-bound. Preparations are underway for this year's Thanksgiving dinner and the parish hopes to feed 1,200 for the holiday.

For more information, call 732-458-0220.

The Salvation Army Ocean County Citadel, 1738 Route 37 East, Toms River, offers several Ocean County programs. Hearty Helpings serves meals weekly. During Thanksgiving and Christmas, the Salvation Army aids thousands of New Jersey residents with toys, food, clothing, visitations and other needs during the holidays. Sponsor a family that is in need through their Adopt-A-Family program, which connects impoverished families with individuals or groups to provide for their tangible needs at Christmas.

For more information, call 732-270-8393.

The Lacey United Methodist Church, 203 Lacey Road, Forked River, offers a Thanksgiving Day Dinner at 1 p.m. The church invites you to join them for a delightful and free holiday meal. Volunteer opportunities are available throughout the day.

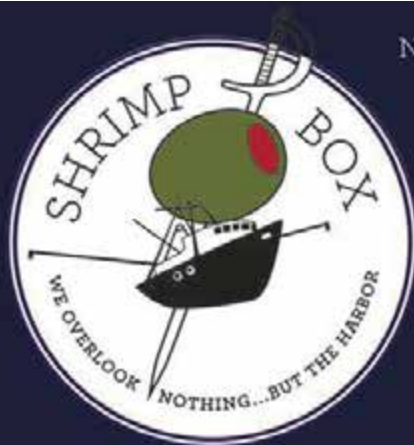

For more information, call 609-693-5222.

St. Gregory's Pantry, 804 Bay Ave., Point Pleasant Beach, assists the community in countless ways including Thanksgiving food distribution and a Toy Room for parents and guardians to shop in at Christmas time. There are plenty of ways to help this time of year such as volunteering your time, donating food, donating gifts for children and more.

For more information, call 732-892-8105.

LENDING A HELPING HAND

Spend this holiday season putting others first by giving back and getting involved to make someone else's season brighter. Each and every action helps. Whether you donate food to a holiday distribution, volunteer to serve food during a holiday meal, donate funds or needed items to a worthy cause or join an organization to help others, you will make a substantial impact on someone else's life. Lend a helping hand to those who need it most this season.

Community based, community grown at TOMS RIVER BREWING

BY SAMANTHA MATTHEWS

NIGHT & DAY MAGAZINE

The charming brewery and tap room located at 1540 Rt. 37 West, Toms River, officially became Toms River Brewing in May of this year when owner Jim Mulligan saw a great opportunity to acquire the existing space and completely revamp and renovate it. The vision was to make it into a spot for the community to enjoy and Toms River Brewing has been brewing beers and working toward that vision ever since.

TOMS RIVER BREWING IS BORN

"It does take a little bit of time to get all that done so it took about nine months to a year to officially get everything up and running," said Lacey Stryker, manager.

While the brewery has remained open this entire time. The renovations, revamps and hard work that has been poured into the brewery thus far brings us to the Grand Re-Opening Party.

"Renovations officially got wrapped up last week," shared Stryker during an Oct. 24 interview. Two weekends of soft openings followed the renovations.

"... The big grand re-opening party is Nov. 2. From 12 'til 10, we've got the Retroglyphs, they're a really cool local band that will be here," she added. "We've got Cajun Jax Food Truck that will be here. So it should be a really fun day for the community, which is kind of why we decided to expand the tap room."

According to Stryker, the original tap room was much smaller and they added on and completely gutted the space and built everything from the ground up.

"We'll have 16 beers on tap, hopefully all 16 for Nov. 2," said Stryker. "But we don't want to just rush things. We want to make sure we're getting the right things out there."

In addition to 16 beers on tap, Toms River Brewing sells cans, growlers and crowlers. The regular cans are 16 ounces, the growlers are 32 and 64 ounce bottle jugs and the crowlers are 32 ounce cans.

"We really wanted to kind of build the place up and build the place out as a spot for the community to come and hang out because there's no other breweries like this in the area, in Toms River," she said. "So when we were redesigning the tap room we kept that in mind, like what are some of the things that the community's going to want?"

"And we wanted to make sure we're on top of the latest and greatest with the beer trends of the crowlers and all of that."

BEHIND THE BEERS AND BRAND

In addition to the 16 beers on tap, Stryker shared they might do a couple of specialty one-offs, like a few sixtels of something different, something special.

"But it's definitely going to be a place where there's tap room-only releases and tap room availability only for certain beers and cans, as well, which will hopefully help just bring a little bit more awareness to our spot," she said. "And then people will come in and you walk through the door and see the environment and our bartenders are all, they're great, they're very knowledgeable, they're very friendly, they really enjoy talking to people and talking to people about beer."

"Even people who aren't, like I said interested in beer, you'll be able to find something here that you can at least enjoy while you're chilling out."

The four flagship beers are: St. John's, an Irish Red Ale, High Cross, a red rye double IPA, Sweet Nothing, a honey cream ale and Black Rabbit, a black lager. According to Stryker, those are the four steadies right now.

Other upcoming beer releases to look forward to are Basic, which is a pumpkin-spiced lactose IPA, Irish Eyes, which is a pale ale, Liquid Thought, which is a double IPA, On the Razzle, which is a cranberry blonde winter ale that will be one of their first limited releases in the tap room and then it's going to go widely distributed after that weekend, and Sweet Chai of Mine, which has vanilla and chai.

According to Paul Harlan, assistant brewer, the brewery being a community is what they're trying to do with all the beers they make. "You should be able to come in here even if you're not a big beer drinker and find something you enjoy and then if you are a big beer drinker find something that you'll like," added Stryker.

In addition to Harlan, behind the beer crafting are George Lissenden, assistant brewer, and Bob Warzecha, head brewer. The creativity behind the recipes comes from all over.

"Yeah, inspiration can come from anywhere," said Harlan. "It can come from anything and I think the number one thing is just trying to turn various foods or various desserts or other drinks into a drinkable beer."

According to Stryker, the various beer releases capitalize on what's available seasonally in terms of ingredients and flavors and a little bit of what's trendy.

When it comes to brewing beer cleanliness and sanitation is huge for Toms River Brewing. "Making recipes and brewing is fun, but 99 percent of it is cleaning," said Harlan. "Making sure that everything is in tip top shape ready to go."

Stryker stressed their number one priority is going above and beyond the industry standard to make sure they're following the right processes. This is to ensure that when the beer comes out it has gone through the cleanest pipes, fermentation tanks and mash ton.

While the beers span various styles, the Toms River Brewing brand stems from Irish roots. "So Toms River Brewing has a large population of Irish people and the owner, Mulligan, is Irish as well," said Stryker in response to the choice behind the claddagh in the logo. "So he kind of wanted to have a little bit of an Irish touch on there."

Stryker also pointed out that the thorny design on the handle of the tap handles represent a shillelagh, Irish walking stick. "We harken back to our Irish history in little places where we can, but the beer styles and everything like that we're going to run the gamut," she said, adding new can designs will have a new look and feel and local artists are creating the designs.

Staying local is a theme for the brewery. "I think that's one thing we always talk about here is being local and with our performers, with the artists that come in, everything's local and we've talked a lot about doing local beers as well, so getting grain that was grown in New Jersey, hops that were grown in New Jersey," shared Harlan.

LIVE MUSIC AND UPCOMING EVENTS

The regular Tap Room hours are Thursday and Friday from 4 to 9 p.m., Saturday from noon to 10 p.m. and Sunday from noon to 6 p.m. For the month of November the Tap Room will also be open on Monday, Nov. 11, as the brewery will be releasing their specialty IPA for Veteran's Day 'Hurry Up & Wait.' The Tap Room will also be open on Wednesday, Nov. 27, from 4 to 9 p.m. and on Black Friday, Nov. 29, it will open at noon.

Toms River Brewing encourages all to follow along @tomsriverbeer or online at tomsriverbrewing.com for all upcoming events, like their food drive to support the Community Food Bank of NJ.

"So again, it's all that kind of just being a place for the community, giving back to the community," said Stryker. "At the end of the day we're making beer, but we want it to be a really solid place to just come and hang out and do your thing and enjoy."

The brewery will also host live music events and they have a record player for Vinyl Thursdays. Live bands can perform in the brewery itself and in the Tap Room there's space for acoustic duos. The Tap Room will also feature a local artist wall every month with work by a different local artist.

The future of Toms River Brewing is nothing, but bright.

"... It's an exciting time to be a part of the Jersey beer scene because there are so many of them out there, but every one has its own individual look and feel and we're just really proud to be a part of it," she said. "And we're proud to see the positive changes that are going to be coming, too."
